JAYCEES RETIRE, INSPIRE AND ASPIRE

FOR A JOB WELL DONE. Retiring president, K. Earl Abel received the plaudits of the assembled Jaycee and auxiliary members at the dinner-dance held Saturday evening, May 21. Mr. Abel, who was recently elected a director on the national Jaycee board, challenged the next administration to aspire for not only recognition as Pennsylvania's best but the best in the United States. He reviewed the accomplishments of the past year and individually introduced the heads of committees and project chairmen whom he credited with the efforts that brought the highest state recognitions to Warren. In the picture, Alan Blair, one of the former presidents, is about to make the presentation of the past presidents' pin to Mr. Abel. LeRoy Schneck (extreme right) was master of ceremonies for the occasion.

INAUGURATED. Allen Anderson, new president of the Warren Jaycees, received his official pin from K. Earl Abel, retiring president. Mr. Anderson called upon the members for cooperation during his administration in order that the local chapter would continue to excel as in the past. Following the dinner in the Marconi Outing club the members and guests danced to the music of the Mike Ferraro Combo of Kane.

NEW LEADER. Mrs. George Hoden (right) accepted the president's pin from retiring executive officer, Mrs. Alan Buerkle. Mrs.

Hoden introduced her board of directors and pledged an active and cooperative administration.

OH, BOYS! A picture which can make this summer seem long is this shot of next term's cheer leaders. This bevy of beauties was selected in a field of twenty after tryouts before next year's senior high school. The young ladies who already promote glances and whistles will coax the sports enthusiasts to cheer the WHS lads to victories. They are (left to right): Judy Moore, Nancy Grosch, Regina Coppola, Dorothy Mathyer, and Paula Dellman. Ann Conti, the other member of the squad, was absent. Regina and Dorothy will be seniors, Judy, Paula, and Ann will be juniors, Nancy will be a sophomore.

During the meeting, the association's members voted for a plan which would use parents as the safety patrol at street crossings during the school term. The action was prompted by the school directors' decision to send fourth, fifth and sixth grade students to Jefferson school and the inadvisability of using younger students as guards. The organization announced a testimonial dinner which is planned for Wednesday, June 1, in the Glade twp. fire hall for teachers completing their services at South Street.

INTERESTING PANEL DISCUSSION. Panel members (left to right) Mike Evan, borough police chief, Clare Elliott, executive secretary of the Children's Aid Society, and Alexander C. Flick, Jr., president judge of Warren and Forest counties, discussed the topic, "The Family Investigates Child Protective Services In The Community." The program was presented to the South Street PTA meeting on Monday evening.

THANKS. Speaking for the members of the Jaycee auxiliary, Mrs. Matthew Bova thanked Mrs. Alan Buerkle for her services as president during the past year and presented to her the past presidents' pin. Listed as one of the greatest accomplishments of the ladies group was the sponsorship of the Golden Age Society which is one year old this week.

The Catered Affair

Some years ago, when Paddy Chayefsky was hired as a writer by Universal Pictures in Hollywood, he asked what he was supposed to write. They showed him a screening of "Miracle On Thirty-fourth Street." "Now do you know what to write?" he was asked. "Sure," he said, "a picture for Thelma Ritter" — who had a very small part.

Chayefsky finally got around to this chore on Sunday on television with a play called "The Catered Affair," starring Thelma Ritter. It wasn't the very best Chayefsky, but then even second-rate Chayefsky is better than most first rate somebody else.

"The Catered Affair," like everything Chayefsky has written, is a very simple story about the most intense and shattering and universal business of marriage — a topic that seems to fascinate the author as the business of making and having (or not having) money seemed to fascinate Balzac.

A wedding is being arranged for a young Bronx girl. The girl and her fiancée want only to get the ceremony over with, a small affair, no fuss and feathers. The girl's father (Pat Henning), a hackie with only a few painfully earned dollars in the bank and the dream of some day owning his own cab, heartily agrees on the small affair.

And the mother of the bride (Thelma Ritter), for the time being, does too. But then people crowd into the act. The neighboring wives, doing their marketing, ask solicitously whether such a hasty, small affair means the girl is in trouble. An uncle, who lives with the bride's family, is told he cannot attend the wedding because then all the other uncles and cousins and relatives would have to come, too. And he is outraged.

All these things influence the mother toward having a big "proper" wedding. But more important is her own guilt toward a daughter she feels she has neglected. So presently the small wedding becomes a large one which the hackie father can't begin to afford. And everyone gets bollixed up. The matron of honor can't afford a gown and wants to withdraw. The bridegroom's vacation plans threaten to be wrecked, meaning no honeymoon. The father's dream of owning his own cab may be indefinitely postponed.

In synopsis that way, it may sound strange that so small a matter as whether a wedding should be large or small should generate so much passion and especially so many different ones. But all these small prepossessions seem terribly logical at the time. Still, the cumulative effect of the play is much less moving than say, "Marty," simply because the question of how a man gets married is much less important than whether he will at all.

There were some fine scenes, though. I liked one scene at dinner when the prospective father-in-law was boasting about how much he spent on his daughter's wedding, while the camera catches glimpses of the father, the bride, the mother — each wrestling with his separate emotions and particular problems. And also the scenes between mother and daughter, and mother and uncle (who is her brother) and finally, cleverly postponed till the very last minute, between the husband and wife who are the father and mother of the bride.

Altogether, it didn't come off entirely successfully, partly because the ending was a little weak — it ended almost where it began — and partly because the theme was rather fragile, too. But Chayefsky can never do anything badly. His sense of theater, scene by scene, is unerring. His people are very human and, even if you have never set foot in the Bronx, very much like the people next door.

And he's also very lucky. These gentle dramas happen to have come along at a time when I feel strongly people are fed to the teeth with mayhem and sadism and violent Saturdays. No wonder his "Marty," which is about whether a butcher will get married, is such a big hit in the movie houses.

VISITOR. George W. Pierce, of Erie, signed the register as a visitor at the first birthday party of the Golden Age Society. The attenders acted as if they believed their slogan, "Life Begins at 60."

JAYCEE AUXILIARY PROJECT. Successfully steering the Golden Age Society has been this group of Jaycee Auxiliary members who are pictured with Mabel Swanson and Dr. Frantz. The young ladies

ONE YEAR OLD! Members of the Warren Golden Age Society jointly celebrated the organization's first birthday and Dr. C. J. Frantz's ninetyeth anniversary (actually, today) on Tuesday, with a meeting in the YWCA. During the past twelve months, the society has grown from ninety-two the first

NEW VOLUNTEERS. Participating in an orientation course for future volunteer services in the Warren State Hospital are the individuals in the accompanying picture which was taken by Mr. Severini. ROW I: Mrs. Edith Harriger, Ridgway, Dr. Jack Wolford, clinical director, Mrs. W. J. Dremann, Mrs. Elaine Rader. ROW II: Mrs. Gladys McElwain, Mrs. Florence Newhall, Mrs. Opal Reddecliff, Mrs. Hilver Murray. ROW III: Mrs. June Switzer, Mrs. Dorothy Regina, Mrs. Camilla Bathurst, Mrs. Martha Baker. ROW IV: Mrs. Adeline Campbell, Mrs. Mary Headlund, Mrs. Inez Small, Mrs. Mary Manno, Ridgway. The course of training will require twelve hours of classroom work. The personnel will then be qualified to offer personal services at the hospital's new admissions building, to elderly patients at Geriatrics building, and to patients in the neurological unit in the Stone building. The training sessions will be conducted by members of the medical, nursing, and social service staffs, under the direction of Mary Helen Johnson, director of volunteers at the Warren State Hospital.

ASIDES

A Liquor License is needed for a new club to open in Warren. The money and property is standing by, but the license is considered a necessity. It would be a veteran organization.

Used Cars May Be on the way out. Stealing an idea from some makers of industrial machinery, car makers now are considering renting cars instead of selling them. You could have one for eighteen to twenty-four months, then it would go to the factory to be junked. You would be given credit on a new rental. The first to try it may be the Lincoln Continental line.

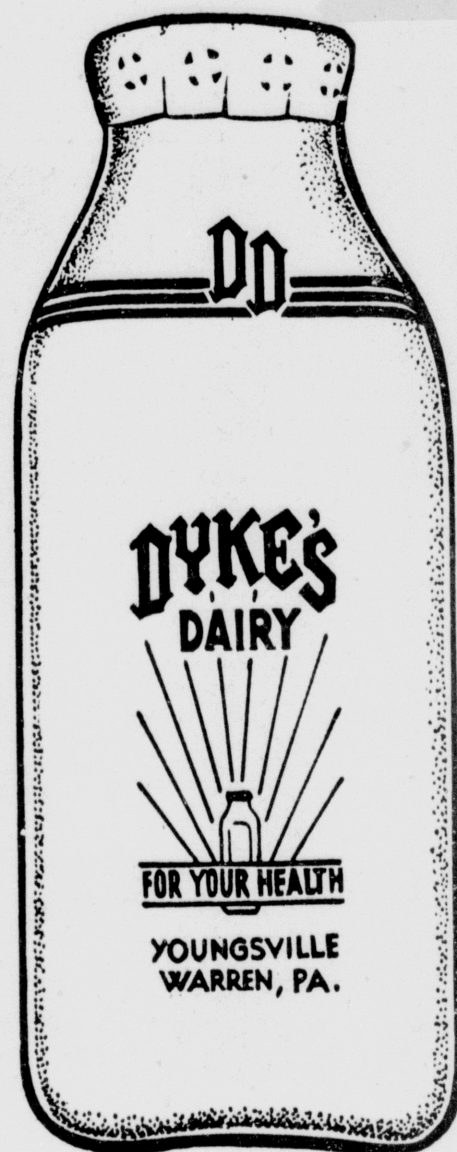

The Extroverts may find loud colors difficult to obtain in 1956 models. There is a marked return to colors as plain as black and many buyers are insisting on single colors or two-tones that blend rather than contrast. Next year, many wild colors will be dropped and the trend will be away from the gaudy which was tried this year in an effort to force sales through an appeal to the ladies.

A New Bug that eats three times as much lawn and pasture land as the Japanese beetle is looking our way. Some have been seen in the Buffalo area. They are known as the European chafer. They hatch from eggs and feed on grass roots, three grubs eating as much as a square foot of turf.

They are of the June bug family, and the grubs are white, three-fourths of an inch long, and curled like a Japanese beetle. The hatch takes place early in June. The bug ranges from chocolate to tan. If you see one, send it to the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, in Harrisburg, for identification.

Open Stores the full week before a holiday now is being tried by many Warren retailers. Instead of opening on a Wednesday in the week of a holiday if the day off comes first, the preceding Wednesday will be an open day. In this way the stores will be open June 29 and closed the afternoon of July 6, and open August 31, but closed September 7.

A Decrease finally came to the sale of government bonds in Warren county. The April sale was about $5,000 less than the April of 1954. March was even worse. The sale was almost $90,000 less than the March of 1954. Which helped explain why the state figure was almost two million off.

In Brief

A Jury Favored The Plaintiff in the trespass case of Flossie W. Morton vs. Willie Hunt heard in the Warren County court this week. The verdict required that Hunt pay a $240 automobile repair bill and $150 to the plaintiff as compensation for the two weeks she was deprived of her vehicle.

The Official Count of the May 17 primary election revealed that Allan Branch, defeated candidate for Register and Recorder, actually received 1456 votes rather than the 1443 he was credited with in early compilations. All other totals remained unchanged as follows: COUNTY COMMISSIONERS - Crippen (D) 1589, Branch (D) 1284, Olney (D) 776, Mead (R) 2912, Johnson (R) 2323, Bowersox (R) 2285, Akeley (R) 1997, Peterson (R) 1458, Carbon (R) 894, and Hultberg (R) 654.

REGISTER AND RECORDER - John E. Parsons (D) 1658, Gurney R. Ball (R) 3073, Robert Geiger (R) 2077, Allen Branch (R) 1456. TREASURER - William O. Tingwall (D) 1621, Robert Ritchie (R) 2837, William Simonsen (R) 2181, B. J. Hofer (R) 1570. JURY COMMISSIONER - Margaret Hartnett (D) 1567, Wilma Toner (R) 3227, Nell Eggleston (R) 2246.

SHERIFF - Lloyd O. Knight (D) 1613, Larry Linder (R) 3778, Sandy Secor (R) 2965. JUDGE - Alexander C. Flick, Jr. (R) 5767. PROTHONOTARY - Lucille S. Irvine (D) 1560, Ralph Sires (R) 5089. AUDITOR - Ralph N. Summerton (D) 1614, Charles H. Briggs (R) 4316, Harry R. Chinburg (R) 4134.

A Divorce Was Granted by Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr. in the case of Gertrude L. Hoffman vs. George H. Hoffman.

A Settlement Out Of Court was reached in the pending case of Audrey Redmond vs. Robert V. Thompson in action which originated in an automobile accident over a year ago on Route 6, east of Corry. Thompson was driving the car in which Redmond was fatally injured in a one-car accident.

Passing On The Right, William J. Lucia, 15 Walnut st., Warren, caused over $100 in damages to his own car and a vehicle operated by Rita Grillo, 1111 1-2 Pennsylvania ave., W., Warren. Lucia thought Grillo was preparing to make a left turn so started to cut around on the right. Lucia turned to the right and the two machines collided. The accident occurred on Pennsylvania ave. at 6:38 p. m. on Friday, May 20.

National Honor. Beverly Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Chapman, of Warren, was tapped for the 1955-56 Chapter of Mortar Board during the May Week activities at Northwestern university. This is a national senior women's honorary society, which elects its members from the junior class on the basis of outstanding leadership, superior scholarship, and service to the university.

No less than five and no more than twenty-five may be elected. This year nineteen were named. Beverly also is president of her social sorority, Kappa Delta, and this year had the pleasure of receiving the cup awarded to the sorority winning the May Sing. Mrs. Chapman was a guest of her daughter during the May Week activities.

Two Cars Tangled at the intersection of Pennsylvania ave. and N. Irvine st., Warren, at 2:20 p. m., on Saturday, May 21. Arlene Valone turned left onto N. Irvine st. just as Folke Odmark pulled into the highway. Both drivers reside on N. Irvine st. The Valone machine sustained $200 in damages but the Odmark vehicle was not damaged.

Two Cases Remain on the Court Schedule: Eliza Baldensperger vs. Quality Cash Stores, Inc. in which it is reported that the plaintiff was injured in a fall on the defendant's property. F. W. Fletcher vs. Dorothy Wolfe in an action involving a diamond ring.

Most Successful Camporee in the history of the Chief Cornplanter Council, Boy Scouts of America, was held Saturday and Sunday, May 21 and 22, at Camp Olmsted. Over 250 men and boys attended the outing which was under the direction of Earl Mohnkern, camporee chief, and Bill Muir, activities chairman. Outstanding patrol in the encampment was Eagle Patrol of Troop 15, Akeley, which also won the skills contest. At the campfire ceremonies, David Honhart was presented his Eagle badge and training awards were received by Earl Mohnkern, Fred Reed, Carl Rogers, Harry Black, and Robert Endress.

Warren Playgrounds Schedule: OPEN, Tuesday, June 14 - will be open from 10 a. m. through 8:30 p. m., Monday through Friday, each week until August 19. Intraplayground activities for boys and girls will include competition in volleyball, horseshoes, badminton, softball, and tether ball.

Fourth Of July Parade plans were announced by Jack Barr, general chairman, after a meeting of the celebration committee held in the American Legion Home, Thursday, May 19. The parade route will be the same as in 1954 with no parking allowed on the south side of Pennsylvania ave. from Union st. to Conewango ave. and Pennsylvania ave. to Third ave. The parking ban will be in effect from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. the day of the parade.

Trailers Will Be Taxed in Conewango twp. according to action taken by the Conewango school directors in their recent meeting. The tax will be collected from the property owners where trailers occupied by families as living quarters are parked and the rate will be $2 per trailer per month. This is the first such action in Warren County.

An Officers' Training Session for newly-elected Jaycee officials was conducted as part of the regional meeting which was held in Franklin, Sunday, May 22. K. Earl Abel, national director, was in charge of the conclave which featured an address by Kenlem Shirk, past state president of the organization. Those attending from Warren included: Allen Anderson, president, Thomas Barratt, vice president, Donald Owens, secretary, and Richard Munch, state director.

"Daily Reflections," an oil painting by Mrs. Warren Stone, was selected as winner of the popular-vote award at the Talent Recognition Art Show which closed at the Woman's Club on Saturday, May 21. Persons attending the exhibit were invited to vote for their favorite paintings or pieces of ceramics in the show. All the winners will be exhibited at the Wetmore Gallery of the Warren Public Library this week.

Jaycee Independence Day Parade Committee Chairmen: Jack Barr, general chairman; Fred Harman, celebration secretary; Bill Houston, parade; Ed Farynowski, floats; Ed Place, volunteer fire departments; Bud Owens, drum corps; Wilbur Wakeley, finance; Royce Black, grand prize award; Frank Fiesi and Ray Barlow, street dance; Ted Wood, decorations; Bob Dahler, War Memorial Field preparations; Nick Wendelboe, fireworks; Ed Ryberg, July 3 vesper services.

Warren General Hospital is being represented at the Middle Atlantic Hospital Convention this week in Atlantic City by Miss Dorothy Mel-dorf, superintendent. The meetings will be conducted in the large convention hall and will include delegates from New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania.

The Children's Aid Society held its annual meeting on May 19 and elected Mrs. C. A. Erickson, Mrs. R. O. Wilder, Mrs. D. E. McComas, and Mrs. G. W. Walker as directors for three-year terms beginning in 1955. The following officers were selected for the coming year: Mrs. S. L. Myer, president; Mrs. D. E. Conaway, first vice president; Mrs. P. E. Harrington, second vice president; Mrs. R. O. Wilder, secretary; Mrs. W. M. Hill, treasurer; Mrs. R. E. Dunham, assistant treasurer, and S. Knox Harper, legal advisor.

Authorization To Amend the Warren borough zoning provisions to allow parking lots in residential areas will be sought in a public hearing scheduled for this evening at 7:30 in the municipal building. The public has been advised by George Geracimos, borough manager, that favorable action will not give blanket permission for all citizens to turn lots into parking space. Only upon application to the board of adjustment and when they rule the exceptions to be proper will authorization be granted.

Fourth Avenue Improvements are scheduled by the Keystone Construction Company to start this week. It is planned that the old road surface, rails, and ties will be removed, new rails and ties be installed, and continuous blacktop surface be laid over the right-of-way and three feet on either side. Rails and ties will be stored on the north side of the avenue and two-way traffic will be maintained on the south side. During the time of the construction, there will be no parking on either side of Fourth ave. between Market and Laurel sts.

WHS 5th In District Track

The Warren high school track team finished fifth in the District Ten track meet at Meadville, Saturday, with Shanshala capturing the only first place, which he gained by tossing the shot 46 feet, 7 1-2 inches. The team had 17 3-4 points. Erie Academy was first with 47 1-8.

Erie Strong Vincent finished second with 36 5-8, then came Meadville, 27 1-2, and Oil City, 21. Behind Warren were Erie Tech, 17; Titusville, 16 1-2; Corry, 15; Franklin, 10; Harbor Creek and Erie East, 6 1-8, and Grove City, 4 1-4.

Two other Warren boys qualified for the state meet by finishing second in their events. Powley was on the heels of Wingar, of Oil City, who ran the mile in 4:33.5. Homan was second to Meadville's Polchowski in the javelin which was won with 157 feet 5 3-4 inches.

There were some good marks posted in the meet. Baker ran the hundred in 9.9 and the 180 yd. hurdles in 20.7. Wolfe did the 440 in 51. Roberts hopped 20 feet 11 in the broad jump. Fuller and Fucci tied in the pole vault at 11 feet. Wingar added laurels in the half mile at 2:02.2.

The Academy relay teams wasted no time in the half mile with 1:31.3 and in the mile with 3:35.6.

Points also were won for Warren by Simonsen who tied for second in the pole vault and by Berdine and Homan who were tied for third in the high jump.

Warren Wins Final

Warren's track team completed its season with an 82-18 defeat of Union City, Tuesday, though several first string varsity men did not participate. The boys enjoyed eight victories and one loss. The single downfall took place in Oil City and was so close that few doubt the boys would have won if Mahaffey had not been lost with an injury.

First places at Oil City went to the following: Swanson, 23.3 in the 180 hurdles; Greco, :10.5 in the 100; McDonald, :55.4 in the 440; Simon, the 880 in 2:12; Koebly the 220 in :24.5; Foley took the shot with 42 feet 11 inches and the discus with 130 feet 9 inches. Mohnkern went 143 feet, 5 3-4 inches in the javelin, and Mancuso did the broad in 18 feet one inch.

Youngsville B Champs

Youngsville's track team swept Class B honors in the District 10 meet, gathering 72 points. No one was close. Mercer had 30 for the second. The Eagles also knocked off several records and collected 18 medals. The 880 team, composed of Dick Sherwood, Myron Nelson, Frank Gruttaria, and Bill Moniak, did it in 1:38. Joe Kulbacki ran the half mile in 2:7.8 Jack Bailey climbed to 10 feet 2 inches in the vault, and Bill McChesney whipped the discus 122 feet, 6 7-8 inches. All records, and good enough to do them some good in the state meet Saturday.

Football Scheduled

Warren high school's 1955 football season will see the team at home for five games and away for the same number, not counting the intra-squad game on September 5. The Dragons visit Corry on September 9, then go to Franklin the 16th. Titusville comes to Warren, September 24.

In October, Oil City comes to Warren on the 1st, Warren goes to Meadville the 7th, plays host to Bradford the 15th, goes to Ridgway the 21st, and has Kane for company on the 29th. The two games in November include a newcomer, Millcreek, which comes in on the 5th. Warren goes to Jamestown on the 11th.

Dunkirk has been dropped because of league play, and Erie schools are missing because of their tardiness about making up their home league schedule. Kane is not a newcomer, though it has been missing in late years. Olean was played last year only as a substitute for Ridgway which had polio trouble.

Take Jamestown

Warren's golf team licked Jamestown, 27 to 22, Saturday and will return the visit on June 17, a Friday. Tim Creal led the scoring for both teams with a 77. Jack Vandermolden and F. Nixon, of Jamestown had 79's. Pete Juliano and Dr. Sedwick, of Warren, each had 81.

In a handicap tournament run with the match, Bill Rice and Dean Anderson led the Warren entries with 67's. Bob Werner with 63 and Link Forrester with 72 led the Jamestown participants.

In the weekly tournament at the Warren club, Merle Rossell won the handicap medal tournament with 41, less 8 for a net 33. Chuck Blackman and Skip Morine had 38 less 4 and Harry Barley had 47 less 15 for a three-way tie at 34. Tim Creal posted the low gross of 37.

This Thursday the men are shooting five blind holes and are having a putting contest. There will be a mixed two ball foursome tournament Memorial Day, and next Thursday they will hold gross and handicap medal tournaments.

Ladies Golf

The Warren women golfers slogged through a heavy course yesterday to play a hidden hole tournament. Mrs. Sidney Blackman and Mrs. Homer Culbertson tied for division one and for low gross and low net. Mrs. W. J. Sedwick and Mrs. Robert Voigt were tied for second low net.

Mrs. L. B. Proctor took division two and also second low net. The first low net was a tie between Mrs. T. K. Creal, Mrs. Andrew Paucek, and Mrs. David Crossett.

Mrs. M. E. Pettigrew won the third division honors. Mrs. F. A. Printz and Mrs. J. H. Kannen tied for low net. Mrs. Pettigrew was second.

Industrial Play

The Texas and Cersolsun teams are tied with three victories to lead the Industrial league. This week Texas took the Merchants, 21 to 5, and Nicks, 6 to 2. Cersolsun beat Guiffres, 17 to 2, and Nick's Restaurant, 8 to 4. Jones Chevrolet beat the New Process, 14 to 9, Guiffre's beat the NPC, 14 to 11, and Thomas Coupling took the Merchants, 14 to 13.

Lady Bowlers Cash In

Warren lady bowlers have received checks totaling $204 for the scores they posted in their state tournament this spring, a figure which they suggest is more than earned by the men in their tournament jaunts.

The biggest check was received by Mary Ellen Cameron who teamed with Rose Geibel of Butler and hit 896 in the Class D doubles for fourth place and $30. They also were tenth best in the single game standings with 319 and received $3. And in the singles Mary Ellen has 482 for tenth place and another $12.50, to which is added another $4 for her all events of 1283 which was twenty-first.

Ruth Beyers received $10 for her 468 which was sixteenth in the Class D singles, and Jeannette Harvey earned $10 for her 1481 which was twelfth in the Class B all events.

Others in the money for varying amounts included Red Walsh and Joan Shaddy in Class A; Rose Juliano, Konky Tridico, and Rose Hand in Class B. Rose Driscoll, Lois Kifer, Janet Mellander, Henrietta Pickard, Jaye Pappalardo, Gerry Ernst, Stella Cerra, Gloria Barone, and Millie Baldensperger in Class C; Clara White, Martha Whiteshot, Louise Campana, and Barb Graham in Class D.

Retired?

Maybe Marion Ladewig has retired from competitive bowling, but a peek at the current national women's tournament suggests she still is the lady to beat. She leads the all events with 1890, is first in the doubles with 1264, and fourth in the singles with 651. Her Fanatorium team is second with 2949. And her season's average for 87 league games is 203, second only to the 208 of Philadelphia's Sylvia Wene. Her doubles score is a new record and was rolled with Wyllis Ryskamp, also of Grand Rapids.

Quick Ones

Toby Lyons qualified for the PGA championship Monday by posting a 144 in the rain to tie Lionel Hebert of Erie.

The Opener in the Penn York league was a victory for the Elks who beat Cherry Creek, 6 to 4. Saturday, Ludlow comes to the Warren State hospital field, and Sunday the Elks go to Salamanca.

Walloped were the champs of Warren's softball circles. Bradford drove home 20 runs to the Texas Lunch 8.

A No Hitter has been pitched the first week of the Hot Stove season. Tommy Tourtellot got his fast ones by every batter and the Warren National Bank defeated the Warren Transfer, 3 to 0, in a Bantam league contest.

In another Bantam contest, the Exchange Hotel outlasted St. Paul's Lutheran church, 14 to 12. Alabaugh was the winning pitcher. In Midget games, the Craft Agency defeated Struthers-Wells, 10 to 2, Rollie Poust allowing only four hits, and Seneca Lumber beat the Warren Times Mirror, 11 to 3, with Hogan the winning hurler. He, Lorringer, and McIntosh had home runs.

In Intermediate league action the Warren Observer defeated the Style Shop, 12 to 2, Mazzuca striking out 15 to gain the victory.

THE 880. In the top picture, the Youngsville Eagles are seen out in front at the beginning of the 880 in the Class B, District meet, held in Meadville on Saturday, May 21. The bottom picture shows Joe Kulbacki breaking the tape as the winner in the same event at a record-breaking 2 min., 7.8 sec.

A YHS LOSS. Smith, of North East, just beat Bill Moniak in the 220. The finish was reversed in the

For Your Protection

The guy making the pitch has become a major part of our economic system. He makes it in the newspapers, on the radio, by way of television, with direct mail, with billboards, by burning shoe leather and pounding doors, and maybe he just holds out his hand and asks for a dime. Any way he operates, your pocketbook is his goal and he is out for all he can take from that leatherbound lode.

The retailers include a large majority who are trying to make a fair dollar with products in which they have confidence, and they are using standard and accepted methods of telling you about their merchandise. But well sprinkled among them are those who don't mind twisting your arm.

Advertising basically is a way of telling the world you have an appliance or service to sell. You tell what it is, how it operates, and stress its advantages. You also may think the price is attractive. Fair enough!

But when the pitch becomes a lie, when tricks are used to get inside your door, when statements are made that are very appealing, yet also are very much unfounded, it is time for action...action that is long overdue.

In this column we have tried to spot-light many of these approaches to your pay check, and we have listed charges brought against violators. We believe that a major concern which risks your life and money with reckless claims should be given as much publicity when prosecuted as is the case when a local resident commits a misdemeanor. We regret that many papers readily publish the names of small violators and carry nothing about the large ones. However, advertising enters here also. It is the fear of losing it that establishes many editorial policies.

The present state legislature is attempting to provide what we call an anti-bait advertising bill, which really is an amendment to Section 857 of the Penal Code of June 24, 1939. There is danger in this act, as we warned early in the year, but there also is much good in it, if the final draft is written to protect all concerned.

We believe this one will really more than touch your lives. It affects the many efforts to sell you goods, and it is closely related to freedom of the press, which certainly is a vital part of our national life. We publish here a few basic portions of the law:

Section 857. Untrue, False and Misleading Advertising. - Whoever, with intent to sell or in any wise dispose of merchandise, securities, service, or any other thing, or with intent to increase the consumption thereof, or to induce the public in any manner to enter into any obligation relating thereto, or to acquire title thereto or any interest therein, makes, publishes, disseminates, or causes, directly or indirectly, the same to be made, published, disseminated, circulated, or placed before the public, in a newspaper or other publication in the form of a book, notice, handbill, poster, sign, bill, circular, pamphlet, or letter, or over any radio or television station or other medium of wireless communication or in any other way, similar or dissimilar to the foregoing an advertisement, announcement or statement of any sort regarding merchandise, security, investment, service or anything so offered to the public or concerning the quantity, quality, value, merit, use, present or former price, cost, reason for price, motive for sale, or concerning the method or cost of production or manufacture, or the possession of rewards, prizes or distinctions conferred, regarding such merchandise, security, investment, service or thing, which advertisement contains any assertion, representation, or statement of fact which is untrue, deceptive, or misleading (and which is known, or which by the exercise of reasonable care should be known, to be untrue, deceptive, or misleading) is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), or undergo imprisonment not exceeding one (1) year, or both.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to any owner, agent or employee of any radio or television station or to any owner, publisher, printer, agent, or employees of a newspaper or other publication, periodical, or circular, who, in good faith and without knowledge of the falsity or deceptive character thereof, publishes, causes to be published, or takes part in the publication of such advertisement.

It shall be deemed deceptive advertising, within the meaning of this section, for any person engaged in the business of buying or selling new or second hand furs, wearing apparel, jewelry, furniture, pianos, phonographs, or other musical instruments, motor vehicles, stocks, or generally any form of property, real, personal, or mixed, or in the business of furnishing any kind of service or investment, to advertise, by "liner ads" or likewise, such articles, property, or service for sale, in any manner indicating that the sale is being made by a private party or householder not engaged in such business, and such advertisement shall affirmatively and unmistakably indicate and state that the seller is a business concern and not a private party.

No owner of any newspaper or other publication, or radio or television station or employee thereof, shall hereafter accept any advertisement for its classified or other columns without, at the time, obtaining the name and address of the advertiser, and making a record of the same, which record shall be retained for a period of two weeks, and shall be subject to the examination of any duly constituted law officer of this Commonwealth. No owner or owners of any newspaper or publication, or employee thereof, shall knowingly accept any advertisement from any person engaged in any of the businesses mentioned in this section, if such advertisement does not affirmatively state that the merchandise, property, or service advertised belong to, and are the property of, the business concern from whom such advertisement is directly or indirectly received.

Section 857.1. Offers for Sale of Merchandise, Commodities or Services. Whoever by any means advertises or offers for sale any merchandise, commodity, service, or thing with intent not to sell it at the price advertised or offered for sale, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than five hundred dollars ($500) nor more than one thousand ($1000), or undergo imprisonment for not less than six months nor more than one year, or both.

In any prosecution under this section, except in cases of innocent mistakes or typographical errors, the refusal by any person or any employee, agent, or servant of any person, to sell, or the refusal to sell at the price advertised or offered for sale, any merchandise, commodity, service or thing, shall be prima facie evidence of a violation of this section.

Checks and Balances

By Thomas L. Stokes

WASHINGTON -- We all recognize that our government in its Executive branch today is under conservative management that has applied the brakes to slow down the economic and social reform movement developed during the 20 years of the Roosevelt-Truman regime that ended two years ago.

While the bulk of those reforms still are on the books, and some like Social Security have been expanded, others have been weakened by administrative rulings, notably in the field of natural resources, and especially in multi-purpose development of our great river systems. How much further this back-tracking through administrative action may go no one can foretell. Much will depend on whether the Administration gets a further lease of power in next year's national elections.

In the midst of the current peaceful "counter-revolution," as it might be called, the death a few days ago of former Justice Owen J. Roberts of the U. S. Supreme Court took the mind back to the noisy and exciting "revolution," also peaceful, known as the New Deal which was directed by and dominated by the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

For Owen J. Roberts became a key figure in an important phase of that era. He was a member of the Supreme Court, and the court became for a time a road-block to the dizzy economic and social changes generated by President Roosevelt and a Democratic Congress. In the end Justice Roberts became an instrument in removing that obstacle.

The first big explosion came with the decision holding NRA unconstitutional. That -- National Recovery Administration -- was created by Congress to supervise codes between government and industry shortening hours and increasing wages in order to help to absorb the great army of unemployed and infuse purchasing power into our starved economy. At two succeeding news conferences, President Roosevelt deplored that decision and castigated the court for taking the country back to the "horse and buggy age," as he phrased it.

The public debate that he stirred up then by his attack on the court was only intensified by another decision. That nullified AAA, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, the basic farm recovery agency created by Congress. Incidentally, that decision was delivered for a majority of the court by Justice Roberts. This reporter, who was in the court that day, can still remember it.

For two reasons. One was Justice Roberts, himself. He always delivered his opinions from memory, and that day his performance seemed especially impressive. A handsome figure of a man, he looked out over the court from the end of the bench where he sat as he recited his opinion with the magnificence of a Shakespearean actor of the old school. The second striking factor was the tortuous, involved, devious path his decision took to arrive finally at the strangulation of the AAA law so dear to millions of farmers.

It was on that occasion that Justice Harlan Fiske Stone, who was rated among the liberals on the bench of that day and later was Chief Justice, bluntly denounced the court's majority for arrogating to itself legislative power and torturing the Constitution in this decision, as he saw it. His outburst reflected the rising public criticism of the court provoked by President Roosevelt.

Perhaps the crowning blow came in the spring of 1936 when the court, by a 5 to 4 decision in which Justice Roberts joined the majority, held a New York State law fixing minimum wages for women unconstitutional. That precipitated the Supreme Court issue into the national political conventions that year, and the candidate nominated by the Republicans, Governor Alf. M. Landon of Kansas, went so far as to come out for a constitutional amendment to permit states to pass minimum wage laws.

In February of next year, 1937, after his landslide re-election, President Roosevelt submitted to Congress the now famous "packing" bill to increase the size of the court by adding a member for each of the sitting members over 70 who remained on the bench. This was the ultimate challenge to Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, who had seen the threat to the court and its prestige in the previous Roosevelt attacks. His hand was visible in a decision handed down soon thereafter which upheld, 5 to 4, a Washington State law fixing minimum wages for women. That reversed the New York decision, the about-face coming within the short space of only nine months.

Here Justice Roberts was the key. He switched to uphold the minimum wage principle, swinging the court that way. It came out afterward that the court already had taken its vote in private before President Roosevelt had submitted his court "packing" bill. But this shift was indicative of the skilful maneuvering which Chief Justice Hughes had begun soon after the election and the strategy became very plain subsequently as the court upheld other New Deal statutes, one after another. That tempered the storm and eventually the "packing" bill was abandoned. So, through the years, the pendulum swings back and forth in our government of checks and balances.

Ergo sum cogito

(District Forester A. H. Vogler expresses his sylvan reaction.)

Ever since early man experienced awe and fear at the vastness of his primitive surroundings has nature dominated him. Droughts and floods, ice sheets and earthquakes drove him to a life of wandering. Lightning, sunsets, and fires filled him with pagan reverence and superstition. However, as a creature endowed with a mind driven by curiosity (even as today) he was able to resolve to his use much of the unknown he had to live with.

We can say he survived because of three words, "Ergo sum cogito" - "I think, therefore, I am."

Because of a vast accumulation of knowledge spanning thousands of years, man was able to settle down to a life of specialized living; some becoming farmers and herdsmen, others industrialists and researchers. With increase in populations and knowledge his world was shrinking. Modern living demanded his attention with the result that his "time-for-living-naturally" was dwindling away from his control.

Only in comparatively recent time are we reverting again to the appreciation of nature about us. Altho it seems, only, because we are being made aware of the fact the vital natural resources we depend upon are being used up.

Again, we are becoming a society which is awed by softly glowing sunsets, blinking stars and the soothing rhythm of flowing waters.

Some people are thrilled by craggy mountains and rocky canyons, but most of us prefer greener vistas. Swamps and ponds embraced by green mansions of trees delight and enchant us.

We must surely live next to the earth to know it. We must relax to appreciate. How explain the sensation one feels on hearing gulls mewling along the Allegheny or be startled by the weird call of a Loon on Chapman Dam? Here one needs no thought to hurry. Northern hardwoods trees ring Chapman Park reservoir in a Spring blanket of green tolerating the hemlocks and pine, original residents of an ancient glacial age. Logging, lumbering and fire generally eliminated the pine and hemlocks, but those that survived stand proud in defiance of the maple, beech and other hardwoods. Threatening with patience, that in a future day the conifer will again replace them.

This Warren County park is a place of relaxation and contentment. A place to picnic and hike. To study the trees and smaller plants. To sit and watch a sunset. See deer suspiciously approach the waters edge for their evening drink and listen to the call of birds in windruffled leaves. Hear tree frogs peeping in the melancholy marshes of the back water.

Of such a "spectacular" are we the stewards. These out of doors are ours to use, protect, and keep clean. These areas of Penn Woods are our responsibility as citizens to watch over and enjoy for ourselves and others for now and forever. Who can doubt these forests, fields, and waters are our inheritances from a power out of Genesis stronger than any atomic bomb?

Big Owl Beaten By Goose (Game Commission Release.)

An Erie County game protector, Elmer Simpson, tells of an unusual bird battle. He says, "Howard Sanders, a farmer living near Edinboro, lost several ducks and blamed foxes. On a recent night he investigated a commotion near his barn and found a great horned owl and a tame goose in a battle royal. In the fracas the owl was so badly injured it could not fly. Sanders obtained a shotgun and, with a light, ran the owl down and shot it. The goose seemed none the worse for wear."

Game Bird Cooperative Nesting Plan

mer, Carbon County, reported: "Near Weissport, early in April, a duck nest was observed to contain a goodly number of eggs. Among the duck eggs were two pheasant eggs. A female pheasant was seen to leave the nest when persons approached. Pictures were taken of a mallard hen and a ringneck hen sitting side by side on the nest. There was a grand total of 34 mallard eggs, plus 2 pheasant eggs, laid in the same nest."

Game Protector D. W. Heacox, Westmoreland County, tells this two-in-one nesting story. "On April 21st, while on foot patrol on a ridge above the Loyalhanna Flood Control Dam, I found a grouse nest containing 14 grouse eggs and 4 ringneck pheasant eggs. This was in big woods quite some distance from fields or openings. One grouse egg was cracked. Two days later the cracked egg was about 12 feet from the nest. I never saw the ringneck hen on or near the nest."

The ringneck's habit of laying eggs in other game birds' nests was covered in a research report by Dr. Logan J. Bennett in 1936. The report was based on a study he made in Iowa that year. The Pennsylvania Game Commission's present Executive Director was then a biologist employed by the old U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey. The following extracts are from Dr. Bennett's report titled The Ringnecked Pheasant Is A Nesting Parasite Of Other Game Birds.

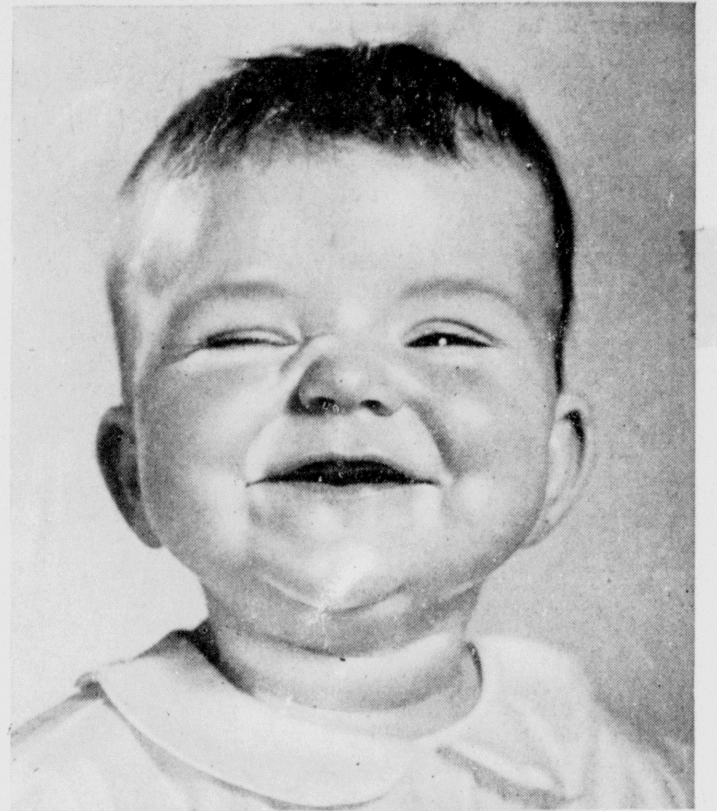

"In many cases pheasants utilize puddle duck nesting areas as readily as do ducks. In 1934 the author observed one pheasant nest per acre on a one-hundred-acre tract of a duck nesting area in Iowa. During the duck studies 340 puddle duck nests were observed. Of this number 16 contained pheasant eggs.

"The largest clutch found was that of a blue-winged teal containing fourteen teal eggs and eleven pheasant eggs. In only one case did the pheasant eggs outnumber the duck eggs. A number of single pheasant eggs were found from several inches to several feet from duck nests.

"In all cases the nests were occupied by ducks and not by pheasants. In two instances the pheasant eggs hatched at the same time as those of the duck. One can imagine the situation that must have arisen when the duck took her brood to the marsh!"

At the end of his report, 19 years ago, Dr. Bennett summarized his findings as follows:

1. Approximately 4.7 percent of the puddle duck nests in the prairie area of Iowa are parasitized by the ring-necked pheasant.
2. Apparently pheasant eggs deposited in duck nests reduce the potential number of duck eggs.
3. A small percentage of pheasant eggs deposited in duck nests hatch.

4. There is no apparent strife between nesting ducks and nesting pheasants.

5. A small percentage of king rail nests, Virginia rail nests, and European partridge nests are parasitized by pheasants.

The Old Gay Duster

The lost art of motoring may return. We see hope in every convertible that goes breezing by, and in each tiny sports car that rolls past.

A big share of us can drive and most of us own cars in this country, but how many of us use them just to drive for the pleasure of driving? A car takes us to our job, gets us to the store, runs us to the movie or place of entertainment. It is a means of transportation and in this day we think nothing of covering two or three hundred miles just to get somewhere and back.

But the ride is a job to do. It is a medium of travel. A few enjoy the ride but most of us want company to keep us awake or a radio to provide entertainment. The view at points may catch our eye, but we are too busy getting someplace to bother to even slow down.

And then you step into an open car. The wind hits you from several directions, the scenery comes at you from all directions, and the girls turn into wolfines who scream and whistle. At thirty you have a greater sensation of action and movement than a closed car can give you at eighty.

And these modern gadgets make driving so simple you can give attention to a few pleasures besides the gears. The parking also is a delight. Power steering is what we had in mind, sonny, in case you think the old boy is getting ideas.

There is more to this than just filling her up and taking off. You need equipment. If you don't like your hair in an early morning twist, get out a duster, a cap, or something that mocks the wind. A neat little net will keep a girl pretty and defy gravity.

If you don't want to look as though you were doing a parachute drop, wear a skirt that does not billow. The tunnel of winds has nothing on the dash board tornado.

Two very handy accessories to take along in an open car are binoculars and a camera. The freedom of vision lends itself to the full use of a pair of good glasses. You will spot all types of birds from many angles, and if the driver is loafing along at thirty to forty, you can keep an eye on things above for a long distance. The glasses will take you to the nearby hills and into the valleys. They help make it a new ride to those who have come to look at a car as just a way to get there.

A camera, still or movie, or better than either, both, will get some real use in an open car. No need to open doors and run around to position. Just pull onto the berm, stand up and start shooting, up, down, east, north, west, or south. Color film enjoys a real work-out in such an arrangement.

But those hilltops on a mellow evening, with clear skies above, stars so close, and a moon sitting on the nearest tree...there's motoring.

Rain? Press a button! Cold? Seal it up tight and turn on a mammoth heater! Danger? Drive slowly! There is more pleasure at forty than you ever have had at higher levels.

Commission? That's what we ought to get if there is a sudden demand for open jobs.

Let us prove worthy of their sacrifice . . .

"...that these dead shall not have died in vain"

The perfect tribute to the memory of our heroic dead is to be found in what we DO to perpetuate the ideals for which they fought and fell. Let us work constantly for a strong and united America. Let us highly resolve to pass on to our children the untarnished heritage of freedom for which so many brave men have given so much.

Echoes From Our Past

A WARREN COUNTY BOOK

by

Ernest C. Miller

As I write these words, a small rather battered looking book is at my side. It is in no sense an ordinary book, indeed, it is one of the most unusual I've ever seen.

The volume should be of prime interest to Warren County residents for it is the earliest known book by a resident of the county. It is nationally known as an important reference for early hunting means and methods in the wilderness of northwestern Pennsylvania, but more especially it serves as a guide to the habits of such animals as the elk, deer, bear, panther, wolf, fox, and the rattlesnake.

The little book measures only five by seven and one-half inches, contains 238 pages, and carries the imposing title "Pioneer Life, or, Thirty Years a Hunter." The author? Philip Tome of Corydon and his book appeared in 1854. Published at Buffalo, it was unfortunately done on poor paper with the result that copies found today are always in poor condition. But this does not stop antiquarian bookmen from constantly searching for copies of it.

Over the years it has been rumored that Philip Tome did not write the book himself, that Annette Tome, a school teacher and wife of Philip's son, John Tome, aided her father-in-law in preparing the work. It might well be, but if Philip did have such help, no harm was done except in smoothing the language used, for the experiences are certainly those of a professional hunter who spent years at his trade.

Philip Tome was born March 2, 1782, in Dauphin County, Pennsylvania, of German parents (his father went by the name Toma) and before 1815 Philip was hunting in the Allegheny region south of Olean, N. Y. He was one of the first settlers at Corydon and during his life gained an intimate knowledge of animal life that perhaps has never been surpassed.

In 1799, Philip was along Pine Creek with his father. A Mr. Stevenson bet the elder Tome $1250 that he could not capture an elk alive and Tome took the wager. Four months time was allowed for the task but when the hunting party got under way, it took them only a week, with the use of a pack of dogs, to corner, rope, and capture a large elk; they transported the animal down Pine Creek on a rough raft and Tome collected his winnings.

In later years Philip Tome was to capture other elk himself and was one of the very few hunters to ever do so.

Tome wrote his philosophy of hunting and it has stood well the test of time. He said, "It is not the destruction of life which affords the pleasure of the chase; it is the excitement attendant upon the very uncertainty of it which induces men to leave luxurious homes and expose themselves to the hardships and perils of the wilderness. Even when, after a weary chase, the game is brought down, he cannot, after the first thrill of triumph, look without a pang of remorse, upon the form which was so beautifully adapted to its situation, and which his hand has reduced to a mere lump of flesh."

A lot of common sense can be found in Tome's pages. He explains that when a group went hunting, the hunter killing the first of any kind of animal was to have the skin, no one killed any animal that had been tamed to any degree, discharged guns should be reloaded at once, always pass deer and approach them as they come towards you, and if you are troubled by wolves, kill two or

The book has been most difficult to find so it was reprinted in 1928; now even copies of the reprint are scarce. The Warren Public Library has a copy and it is well worth reading.

In private hands there are two copies of the volume in Warren and there could be others I am not acquainted with. Hugh C. Jamieson and Harold Putnam are the lucky owners of original edition copies.

Hoover Again?

By Doris Fleenon

WASHINGTON -- The new Hoover Commission reports are the counter-revolution to the New Deal. They go so far, indeed, that Democrats are happily looking forward to running against Hoover again next year.

The same thought has occurred to Eisenhower Republicans, and their private comments are impolite. The immediate prospect therefore is warm praise for Hoover but a cold Administration shoulder for his legislative proposals.

Democrats do not expect to leave it at that, however. Since they control Congress, they are in a position to furnish a forum for advertising the philosophy of the former Republican President. They now plan to hold hearings next year on the drastic Hoover recommendations for curtailing governmental functions.

In making these recommendations the former President has rushed in where the vast majority of working politicians fear to tread.

President Eisenhower himself has repeatedly accepted the New Deal framework. Right wing Republicans grumbled openly that his last State of the Union message was a New Deal speech, and Democrats agreed. It is the reason they have so much trouble making a case against him.

In actual performance his record is mixed. He has made no new starts in public power and sponsored the gift of the marginal oil deposits to the states, but he keeps promising not to wreck TVA. He has weakened the independent agencies with the frequent appointment of administrators not in sympathy with their original aims, but he got the GOP Congress in 1953 to expand Social Security.

In no case has he proposed fundamental reversals like those now bearing the imprimatur of the Hoover Commission. In fact, when it became apparent that his first chairman of his Committee on Intergovernmental Relations, Clarence Manion, was committed to the Hoover philosophy, Manion was asked to leave.

What may confuse the public as the new fight shapes up is that the first Hoover Commission was a bipartisan affair to which, for example, Dean Acheson made a major contribution. It was designed to make government more efficient and less costly. President Truman recommended most of its reforms and helped put them through Congress.

The new group has moved into the controversial area of the proper function of government. It was stacked against the New Deal from the start, only one liberal Democrat, Rep. Chet Holifield of California, being appointed to it. Holifield has consistently dissented from its findings.

The situation now shaping up raises anew the question of former President Hoover's stature and standing with the American people.

It was a political imperative for the Republicans to rehabilitate him. So long as the last Republican President was a symbol only for bitter depression and governmental inactivity in the face of it, it was improbable that a Republican could be elected President.

They got a break they could not have expected when former President Harry Truman, himself well acquainted with the vicissitudes of politics, helped by appointing Hoover head of the first governmental reorganization commission. It was a generally popular project and the former President's comeback began.

Democrats at the time argued it was a political mistake. But Truman knew what it was to be down and to be kicked when you are down. He overruled the protests.

Harry Truman incidentally has still to be even invited to the White House by the general he appointed to be Supreme Commander of the NATO forces.

Observations

By Bob Walsh

The Continuing Battle

We have a constitution. The next job, the everlasting job, is to make it work. It might even need some improving. But improvements in this nation should be aimed at greater freedoms, clarification of freedoms, and assurance of the same.

Freedom of speech is about as basic as you can get, whether it be by word of mouth to a friend on the street, a private conversation in your home, a call on the telephone, a statement in the press, a news report on the radio, or a televised message. But those involved in all of these activities are in danger of losing their advantages if they do not remain alert.

Many of us do not become very excited about the wiretapping situation. Some believe it is a good way to catch criminals and saboteurs. Some even believe it is a silly place for personal matters and you might as well face the fact that you never can count on having a really private line.

But there is something involved much deeper than that. One of the early battles for freedom in this nation was against the "general warrant." This was a warrant which allowed a police officer to enter your home without having a specific reason. He didn't even need your name on the warrant. It was what we call today, "police state procedure." It did happen here, and before the day of the telephone.

We fought that one out and today you are protected from such uncontrolled violation of your privacy. But the wiretapping suggestion could be a step in the other direction. Here we have what amounts to a "general warrant." Your private conversation on the telephone no longer is remotely private if wire tapping is permitted.

Wire tapping probably will be permitted. But like the battle over the warrant, there must be one over the restrictions of how tapping is to be done and what is to justify it. You have a major part in this one and should be giving it much thought. Thought that could be nicely followed by letters to your congressman (which in this area no doubt is a discouraging thought).

As For Photographers

The new look in news gathering is the camera. And up to now there has been no higher court ruling on the many bans placed by judges against taking news pictures in courts.

Seven Pittsburgh and Westmoreland news men have been found guilty of violating such a ban, though they took their pictures outside the court room. Their case has been appealed to the state supreme court and may be heard next fall.

Out Cleveland way, three employees of Cleveland Press Editor Louis B. Seltzer have been fined for contempt of court. They flashed a bulb in the common pleas court of Judge H. Silbert. The United States supreme court refused to take jurisdiction after the Ohio supreme court upheld the conviction.

Meanwhile, several judges have gone along with experiments to prove that pictures can be taken without disturbing the decorum of the court. Most of these tests have been made without flash bulbs and some judges have asked when the boys were going to start working, not realizing that modern photography enables well equipped newsmen to work unobtrusively.

* * *

On And On

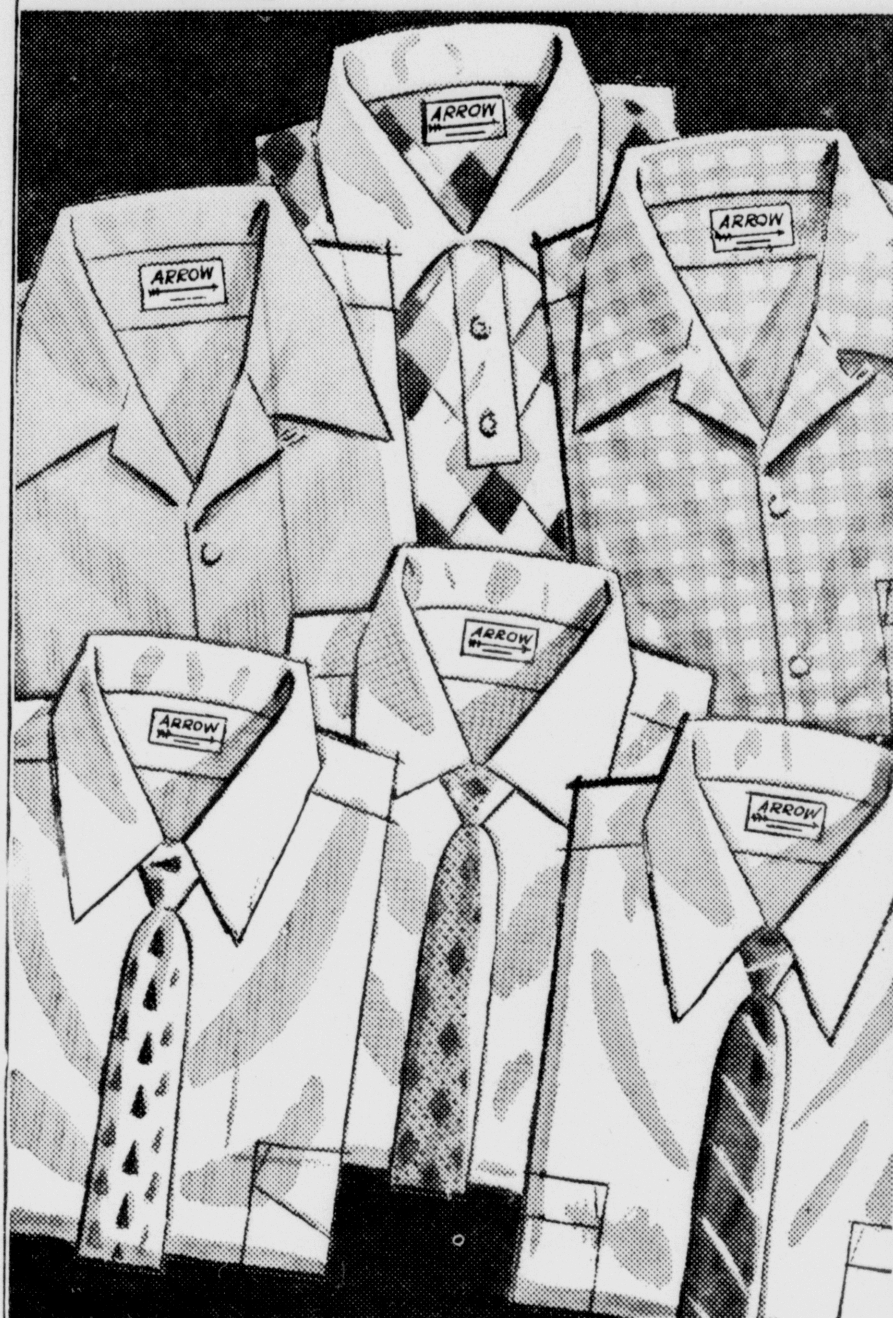

The press freedom scrap keeps right on moving and with many gains to overcome some of the subtle losses. Out in Illinois they are debating a "right to know bill" which would open all meetings of city, village, and county councils to the public. Plus the school boards.

Up in Niagara Falls a paper is calling the closed meetings of the Housing Authority a violation of the people's rights to know.

In Los Angeles county, California, the Sacramento legislators held private meetings so that they could let their hair down and talk. The newspaper publishers association of that state tied into that one, calling it a stupid action and suggesting that legislators might be better off if they had a competent newspaperman get the news direct, and accurately report it, than take chances on it being garbled by official interpreters. (An experience not uncommon in some Warren county communities.)

And so we go around the country, battles for information from public officials, stands against various news bans, efforts to open meetings of elected officials to public representatives in the form of the press. We find it this month in Nevada, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Florida, Iowa, Michigan, West Virginia, and New Mexico, in addition to the cases previously mentioned.

From warrants, to telephone tapping, to modern news picture methods, and back to the beginning where the town meeting began and people spoke their piece. A continuing battle that may some times seem discouraging. But the very fact that it does continue, and that it evolves, is reassurance that democratic freedoms will win out completely....some day.

Things to Come

Memorial Service At Clarendon. The Clarendon Marshall Larsen Post 314 V.F.W. will hold their memorial service Saturday evening at 7 p. m. at the honor roll at Clarendon.

A flag will be presented to the Commando band of the Warren high school preceding the ceremony. Organizations participating in this service from Warren are the Dinsmoor Swing Post 631, Chief Cornplanter Post 135 American Legion, Joseph Pendleton Detachment of the Marine Corps League, Commando band of Warren high school, and the Dads of the V.F.W. Clarendon groups who will take part are the Marshall Post 314 and auxiliary, Clarendon fire department and auxiliary, and the Boy, Girl and Cub Scouts.

Prom In Paris. "An Evening in Paris" will be awaiting couples at the annual Junior-Senior Prom which will take place Saturday evening, June 4 in the Beaty cafeteria. The Blue Knights, composed of students from Allegheny College, will begin playing at 9 p. m. Arrangements for this affair are being handled by co-presidents of the Junior class, Emmy Robertson and John Harrington, along with their committees.

For Interested Homemakers. Homemakers in Warren county who are interested in attending the 1955 Extension homemakers week being observed June 27 to the 30, at Pennsylvania State University, may contact Mrs. Geraldine Johnston, extension home economist, for information on registration and other details. Registrations for this gathering at Penn State can be made in the extension office located in the court house annex.

Dinner-Dance At Club. A Memorial Day dinner-dance has been planned for members of the Conewango Valley Country Club

Saturday evening, May 28 with dinner served at 8 p. m. Music will be furnished by Three Guys and a Gal.

Hey! Hay! The last social event of the season for members of the ninth grade Y-Teens will be a hayride for all girls and their dates Saturday evening. Couples will board the wagons at the Ken Sorenson farm in Scandia at 8 p. m. Those planning on attending are requested to contact Sue Pritchard or Kay White.

Farewell For Five. Five South St. school teachers will be honored at a farewell dinner being held by the South St. P.T.A. Wednesday, in the Glade Township fire hall starting at 6:30 p. m. The following instructors will be leaving the school due to the closing of the second floor: Miss Avanele Anderson, Mr. Robert Connors, Mrs. Annabel Duff, Miss Guinevere Knapp and Mrs. Olga Kyofski. A program consisting of a dramatical presentation by students in Allen Adair's dramatics class at the Warren high school and accordion music by Stuart Punsky will be given.

Learn To Type. Students of Warren high school will have the opportunity of learning how to type this summer by attending a class in typing which will start June 20. A five dollar registration fee will be charged for these classes which will be held in the morning for three hours and will run for two weeks. This fee, however, will be returned to all who attend regularly. Application forms for this course must be turned in by Wednesday.

Seniors To Picnic And Dine. The Warren high school Class of 1955 will begin their Senior week activities Wednesday with the class day dinner which will be served at 6:30 p. m. in the Beaty cafeteria. Participating in the program will be Robert Smith, master of ceremonies; invocation by David Lindberg; group singing led by Mr. Summers; toast to the faculty, Margaret Peterson; faculty response, Mr. Frits; class history, William Atkins; class will, Margaret Young; class poem, Terry Gannoe; class prophecy, Karen Chapman, William Massa, Carolyn Sadler and Donald Urbancic.

Conneaut Lake has been chosen for the class picnic and this event will be held Thursday, June 2 at 2 p. m. During the afternoon Seniors will amuse themselves on rides and by swimming. Busses will leave the school at 12 Noon for the amusement park.

Scout Board To Meet. Members of the Boy Scout Board of Review will gather Thursday evening, June 2, at the Warren Public Library. This meeting will begin at 7 p. m.

Treat For The Ladies. The Warren Kiwanians will honor their wives at a dinner this evening at 6:15 p. m. in the Beaty cafeteria. The National Honor Society of the Warren high school are making arrangements for this ladies night affair and they have planned a variety show to follow the banquet.

C. D. Of A. To Install. Newly-elected officers of the Warren Catholic Daughters of America will be installed at the regular monthly meeting Wednesday evening at St. Joseph's hall starting at 8 p. m. Miss Ann Fleming, district deputy from Kane, will conduct the installation. Following the business meeting entertainment will be furnished by the C.D. of A. choir, and refreshments will be served by Mrs. Albert Schwartz and her committee.

Anniversary Celebrated. Over two hundred members of the Warren Golden Age Society were present to celebrate the first anniversary of this organization at the YWCA, Tuesday afternoon. During the afternoon a resume of the past year's activities was reported and several readings and musical num-

Lions Club Meeting. Leo Hummerich will be in charge of the Tuesday program for the Warren Lions Club. The group will gather for their weekly meeting at the YWCA.

Rally At YMCA. All boys and parents interested in camping are invited to the camp rally being held tomorrow evening at 7:30 p. m. in the YMCA. Motion pictures of past camping activities will be shown along with colored slides of groups and games in the recent YMCA camps. Present at this program under the direction of Paul Steinkamp, camp director for this summer, will be several of the camp activity leaders who will answer questions regarding the program at Camp Sherwin. Reservations are being received at the "Y" office now for summer camp, which begins June 26.

Two-Four Club Gathering. Members of the Two-Four Club will gather tomorrow at 1:15 p. m. This gathering will take place at the YWCA.

Hike To Hearts Content. The YMCA will conduct a sample nature hike Saturday for all members of the boys department. The hikers will leave the "Y" at 10 a. m. and will be taken by car to the Hearts Content area by Paul Sundheimer, forester in charge of timber and fire in the Allegheny National forest, where they will explore this forest region. Future hikes will be taken if the interest warrants it.

HERE'S THE RESULTS of a one-car accident which occurred at 2 a. m. on Saturday, May 21. The occupants, George J. Gern, Charles J. Pope, and Robert J. Pope, all of the Warren area, miraculously escaped without serious injuries. The vehicle left the highway north of Conewango ave. and clipped several trees.

SUMMER CAMP PREPARATION. Girl Scout leaders of Warren-Forest council gathered at Camp Birdsall Edey last week end for instructions preparatory for summer camping experiences. In the picture, the ladies are examining an evergreen tree under the expert guidance of Laurence Stotz. The leaders were curious as to the types of trees they should cut for handicraft items and fire wood. The forester took the girls on a field trip and pointed out the trees of timber quality so the Scouts in their charge would help protect the valuable growth.

HAIL! CAESAR! Over 160 members of the sophomore and freshmen Latin classes of Warren high school banqueted in the presence of Caesar and with the service of "Roman slaves" in the cafeteria on Wednesday evening. The get-together is the fourth annual dinner sponsored by the high school Latin club. Miss Janice Markley teaches the freshmen and John Stachowiak instructs the sophomores. In the picture are (left to right): Nancy Sampson, Emily Kaegel, Norma Sponsler, Melissa Gearhart, Merneen Conn, Jim Mathis, Caesar, Stanley Lindberg, Diane Stewart, Barb Milhalko, Mary Garhing, and Grace Conti.

ATTENTION: ARTISTS AND ART LOVERS. A cooperative effort of the Warren high school Pen and Pencil Pushers club and the Warren Art Group has been organized for the specific purposes of developing a deeper awareness of good art forms and a growing collection of originals for the present school building and the proposed new structure. The "School Art Sponsors" project will be financed through money-raising attempts of the two sponsoring societies and public subscriptions.

It is planned to promote a high school painting competition with the outstanding work of a senior to be added each year to the collection of "originals." Other selections will be made from the Tri-state Art Show. These suggestions have been gleaned from a program developed in Latrobe high school.

FINAL PLANS for the Warren representatives to the FHA state conference were reviewed during a meeting on Wednesday morning. The girls were looking forward with anticipation to the tenth anniversary celebration which will be held June 13, 14, and 15 at Pennsylvania State University. Any members are eligible to attend if

Memorial Day Parade To Move Promptly At 10

Officials of Chief Cornplanter post American Legion have revealed that the Memorial Day parade will form at designated places between 9:30 and 9:45 a. m., Monday, and move out promptly at 10. The route will be south on Market to Pennsylvania ave., west on Pennsylvania ave. to Hickory, south across the bridge to Crescent Park, then east on Crescent Park through gates of Oakland Cemetery.

The honorable Alexander C. Flick, Jr., president judge of Warren-Forest counties, will be the principal speaker. The remainder of the program will follow the pattern established in former years.

Charles G. Pearson has been designated chief of staff, Col. Edward R. Ayres is marshal, and Michael Bobelak has been appointed liaison officer of the day. Division chiefs include Charles H. Lord, Charles Strandberg, and Robert W. Newman.

The formation will include a police escort, massed colors with guards, two flower girls, Gold Star Mothers, Spanish-American war vets, three bands, veterans of all branches of the service, auxiliaries, Boy and Girl Scout detachments. All entries have been requested to carefully observe their positions, maintaining an interval of thirty paces between divisions and ten paces between units.

PRESS TIME PICK-UPS

Cadet Action in the Hot Stove league last night saw Hammond Iron beat the Russell Merchants, 7 to 2, with K. McCool tossing the winning ball. Darkness ended it in five.

Automatic Washing for cars now is available at Nichols Service, on the West Side. A car can be slicked up in five minutes. The finishing touches then are put in with muscles.

Summer Must Be Here. The Wigwam opens Monday, with those well flavored sandwiches to eat and the peacocks to watch. Plus parking and playgrounds. It is out Scandia way and shows how much can be done with a bit of homespun hustling. Clyde and Olga Miller serve them with smiles.

The Poppy Girls will be out again this week, this time under the sponsorship of the American Legion. At this appropriate time of the year an opportunity is offered to do a little more than remember for a moment those who died for our country. You also can give a little for those who didn't die, but who gave so much that they now need help. It is a little gift with a big job to do.

Dangerous Spot

The parked cars on both sides of Conewango ave., in Warren, create several very dangerous situations, such as the area between McPherson and Monroe.

Yesterday, Larry Olsen, eight years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee F. Olsen, 6 Kenmore st., rode his bicycle out from between two cars and into the fender of one driven by Paul Michael Ferrari, of 304 Morrison st., Warren. Larry is in the hospital with sutures in his leg, a head injury, and a bruised elbow.

Kinzua Golf Delayed

The opening of the Kinzua golf course which had been scheduled for Saturday has been delayed a week. Though the recent rain has been beneficial to the course it has made impossible the work that was necessary to prepare for the opening. Les Sheldon expects to be ready on June 4.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS have been installed at three intersections along Fourth ave., Warren, during the past few weeks. Where the New York Central tracks split the highway, the signals are divided to control traffic approaching in two directions. In order to allow clearance, the railroads require obstacles to be at least twenty-one feet above the surface. The minimum height of traffic signals is fifteen feet. In order to keep the lights at an easily visible altitude, the installations have deviated from the normal. It has been reported by borough officials that the two sections can be bracketed together if the railroad tracks are removed sometime in the future.

WINNERS. Gus Cerra (left), captain of St. Joseph's team, accepted the trophy from Sam Gerardi during the festivities on Saturday evening. The award was for the winners of the playoffs between the leaders in the two K.C. leagues.

BOWLING ENTHUSIASTS of the Knights of Columbus gathered in the club rooms for the annual banquet on Saturday evening, May 21. Jerry Lawson (center), general manager of the Jamestown Falcons, was the principal speaker. Others at the speakers' table included (left to right) Joseph "Bunny" Scalise, president of K.C. bowling league, Frank Filesi, toastmaster, Gene Love, assistant general manager, Sam Gerardi, state and national director K.C. bowling association.

STARTING YOUNG. Girl Scouts of Troop 96, sponsored by South Street school, entertained their mothers in the kitchen of the Manufacturers Heat and Light office as the climax to the cooking school. The future homemakers served cookies and punch to demonstrate a portion of their education.

NEW Y-TEEN OFFICERS. Members of the high school group of the Y-Teens of the Warren YWCA installed officers as part of the mother-daughter banquet program which was presented Monday evening in the association's dining room. The new officers, chosen previously by election, were revealed as sealed envelopes were opened by the retiring officials to indicate the successors. "Ohs and Ahs" greeted each selection as the favored ones were tapped on the shoulders and proffered red roses.

HOW MUCH IS A DOLLAR WORTH

That all depends on what it will buy. During the past few years it has bought less and less as prices have gone up and up. But now at last most prices are no longer rising. In fact, some have started to fall. Your dollars may be worth more in the future. Hold on to some of them. Now is the time to increase your savings. A dollar today will buy more than today's dollar's worth tomorrow.
